VOTE THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET FROM "SEND TO SEND."

MORE FIGURES!

To the Voters of Morgan County.

In my letter of last week in "A Question of Figures," it was proved that Morgan county, unaided on the present valuation and with the same rate of taxation as at present, could pay off a debt of $25,000 in nine years.

I shall now endeavor to show what we could accomplish with a railroad. But before proceeding with my demonstration, I wish to call your attention to the following exhibits, compiled from official records on file in the county clerk's office:

VALUATION OF MORGAN COUNTY.
1891	$1,478,509.00
1892	1,569,705.00
1893	1,504,663.00
1894	1,250,000.00
LEVIES FOR STATE TAXES.
1891	$6,214.19
1892	6,592.73
1893	5,345.50
1894	5,312.50
LEVIES FOR COUNTY TAXES.
1891	$7,734.92
1892	6,990.25
1893	7,576.82
1894	7,670.00

The county levy including the poll tax for each year.

TOTAL STATE AND COUNTY TAXES.
1891	$13,919.11
1892	13,582.98
1893	13,122.32
1894	12,982.50

It is correctly claimed that if county bonds for $25,000, bearing 6 per cent. interest, were issued for a term of 20 years, that the principal and interest would amount to a total of $55,000. While that is true, the important question is "WHO WOULD PAY THE MONEY?"

The 20 miles of main line of railroad in our county; the canal mines that would be opened and operated on Caney creek, White Oak creek, Rush branch, Mordecai creek, Elk Fork and North Fork, and the buildings that would be required as homes for the miners and their families; the saw mills; the store houses; and other industries that would be established to develop our mineral resources and utilize our forest products, would by a conservative estimate, add at least a million and a quarter of dollars to our taxable valuation.

At the present rate of 35 cents on $100 the sum of $1,375 per year would thus be added to our county revenue, and at the present rate of 42½ cents on $100 the state tax would be $5,312.50 per year. $1,375 per year for 20 years makes a total of $27,500 for the county.

But it is not only in taxes on property that the railroad and business resulting from it would be the means of added revenue.

To operate the railroad and the Caney creek mines alone would require the services of 600 men, and it is probably below what the results would be to estimate that for the first ten years the wholing operations and other industries would increase our adult male population to the extent of 200 per year. Each of those men would be subject to a poll tax, and would have the money with which to make the payment. This would schedule:

1896 - 600 men at $15.00	$ 9,000
1897 - 800 " "	1,200
1898 - 1000 " "	1,500
1899 - 1200 " "	1,800
1900 - 1400 " "	2,100
1901 - 1600 " "	2,400
1902 - 1800 " "	2,700
1903 - 2000 " "	3,000
1904 - 2200 " "	3,300
1905 - 2400 " "	3,600

Total $22,500
Add 2400 men for 10 more years 30,000
$52,500

This amount of $52,500 added to the $27,500 of county taxes makes a grand total of $80,000, and deducting the $55,000 which the bonds would have cost at the end of 20 years, leaves a net profit to the county of $25,000.

In making these calculations I have not taken into consideration any benefits that would result from the saving of cheap transportation or our ability to ship to market any surplus farm or forest products.

Because of my belief that the best way to pay the debt of $25,000, if the bonds are issued, would be to create a sinking fund that would meet them at maturity, I ask you now to consider how we would be circumstanced under such conditions, assuming my estimates and calculations as accurate:

County revenue as at present	$ 7,670
Increase revenue from road, etc.	4,375
Average increase poll tax	2,925
Total per year	$14,970
Ordinary county expenses	3,850
Interest on $25,000	1,500
For sinking fund	600
Total per year	$ 6,950

This would leave a cash balance to our credit of over $9,000 a year. Imagine what fine shape the highways of our county would be in, if for the next 20 years we had an average of $9,000 each year to spend for bridges, culverts, and in making and repairing roads.

If public sentiment favored paying the bonds before they were due, then by setting aside the taxes received from railroad, miners, etc., and the increase of poll tax, the result would be:

First year taxes	4,375
600 polls	900
Interest at 6 per cent	1,500
Second year taxes	4,375
600 polls	900
Total	$11,116

Pay off $11,000 bonds.

Surplus	166
Saving on interest	690
Third year taxes	4,375
1000 polls	1,800
Total	$ 6,701

Pay off $8,000 bonds.

Surplus	701
Saving on interest	1,620
Fourth year taxes	4,375
1200 polls	1,800
Total	$ 7,996

Which is within $104 of making final payment upon bonds. Our county balance sheet would be during such four years:

County revenue as at present	7,670
Ordinary county expenses	3,850
Interest on $25,000 bonds	1,500
Total	$ 5,350

Leaving $2,320 in treasury each year to be spent as the authorities direct. After these four years the average statement of such county balance sheet for the ensuing sixteen years would be:

County revenue as at present	7,670
Increase revenue from road, etc.	4,375
Average increase poll tax	3,918
Total	$15,963

Deducting from such receipts the sum of $8,850, which is what the average ordinary expenses of the county has been for the past four years, would leave a cash balance in the county treasury of $7,113 per year.

The argument may be advanced that, with such a large surplus revenue, it would be right to reduce the rate of county taxes, but in my opinion that would not be a prudent thing to do, because if we lowered the rate on ourselves we would also be compelled to reduce it on the railroad, mines, etc.; and as we would not be paying any more county taxes than we are now doing, and would be able to easily continue such payment with a railroad to make us prosperous, there would be no wisdom in the reduction.

While $11,500 would be a large surplus to dispose of each year for sixteen years—and thereafter, there is the necessity for a very large amount of public work before all of Morgan county is made what it is capable of becoming, and I am in favor of all beneficial public improvements that we can have that we would be easily able to pay for.

It is not because I am in the employ of the men who own the Caney creek canal coal that I advocate the voting for the $25,000 of bonds. These men paid me fairly for honest services, just as they have paid every one else they hired, and they have already paid out a large amount of money in our county without taking anything away.

I urge upon my fellow-citizens to consider the facts and figures as I have presented them. I have sought to state only what seems to me to be the truth as to the present and the promise for the future, and if my conclusions are right, it seems to me we should unanimously endorse the authorization of the issue of the bonds. We run no risk, because the bonds are not to be issued unless the road is built, and the bridges are not to be paid for until after the road is completed and in actual operation. W. W. McGUIRE.

WOOL MARKET BOOMING.

A Republican Senator Has to Issue a Card Explaining Why He Paid Such Good Prices.

A Wheeling (W. Va.) special says: "The improvement in the prices of wool and sheep in this section continues unabated. The demand for both is active, and prices are higher than at any previous time in two years. Thomas W. Harrison, of Lewis county, W. Va., last week sold 1,500 pounds of wool, for which he was offered fifteen cents six months ago, for twenty-one cents, and has another clip that he refused to dispose of at that figure and on which he expects to clean up twenty-five cents before the first of the year. John Hinson, of M. L. Bond & Co., Churchill, W. Va., told your correspondent that he gathered up a few thousand pounds of wool among farmers in Lewis county, last week, and shipped it to Baltimore, where he received twenty-two cents a pound for it. He says it was not of good grade and that in the entire lot there was not an unbroken fleece. He also asserted that he believed he could get from five to eight cents a pound better for good grade wool, and authorized the use of his name in the statements made.

"A letter from a strictly reliable person in Ritchie county says the farmers there who disposed of stock sheep last summer at $1.50 per head are now buying the same class of animals at from $3 to $5 a head. Sheep are very scarce, and farmers are having trouble to get what they want at any price. The call for fat sheep for market can not be supplied, farmers having them refusing to sell.

"Senator Charles Hogg, of the Ohio district across the river, is a wool-buyer and a Republican candidate for re-election. He has been preaching four-foot-cent wool from the stump. It came out yesterday that he had bought 13,000 pounds of wool in Harrison county at twenty cents straight, an extra good price for the grade.

"The Kilbourn knitting mills, of this city, have just completed two new buildings, additions to the plant, with a full outfit of machinery. The foundations have been commenced for another building, fifty-six by thirty-six feet, and three stories high. When this is completed the Kilbourn will be the largest stocking factory in the United States and will have a capacity of over 3,000 pairs a day."

New Democratic Newspaper.

The Daily Clarion is the name of a new Democratic 7-column paper which made its appearance in Catlettsburg on the morning of the 21st inst., with George Sherlock, former editor of the Kentucky Democrat, as editor. It is Democratic in every sense of the word, and comes out boldly for the county ticket. It denounces the A. P. A. The paper is issued free to the Democrats of the county by the Clarion Democratic club.

Breakridge Endorsed.

Martin and Elliott counties have endorsed Hon. W. C. P. Breakridge for the United States senate, and he was introduced at Winchester as the next senator.

AWAKENED BY "DIXIE."

The Louisville Insurance Man Jumped to His Feet and Told.

This story is not new. It is old in point of date, though not in publicity. It is true, however, or at least touches as such by a New York man born in the South. And this was the way he told it in Louisville a few nights ago:

"What year was it that Pat Gilmore's band was playing in Madison Square Garden for the last time? It doesn't matter. It was the year before Gilmore's death, anyhow. I ought to remember the date, though, for one of your Louisville boys caused me to remember every incident of a certain night that season. I'll tell you about it if you like."

The question in the New Yorker's words was drowned in the tone that vociferated his wish to tell the story, and it was called for by a polite chorus.

"I had been to a dinner party, and drifted into the Garden because I was lonely and had seen everything at the theaters worth seeing. I didn't pay much attention to the concert, and as I slipped a green mint I became interested in a young man at the table next to mine. I didn't know him then, but I learned afterward that he was a prominent young insurance man of this city. He had evidently been seeing the seamy side of New York for some days, and had 'hold up his end,' as is the custom of Kentuckians. But he had come to the conclusion that he needed a little solitude; had forsaken his friends and found the desired loneliness in the crowded Garden. He picked his steps with suspicious care as he came in, but the good form of his appearance was marred only by a wrinkle or two on the linen that formed part of his evening dress. The cause of these wrinkles was apparent when, leaving his glass unattended before him, his head sank and he fell into a much needed sleep. I smiled and thought of other things until toward the close of the program the band began a medley of national airs. It opened with 'Yankee Doodle,' 'My Maryland' and 'Marching Through Georgia.' Several other tunes followed, and then with a brass crash the band commenced the air that for all time will start a tingling every drop in the veins of a Southern born man. The bowed neck of the sleeping stranger swung straight and his eyes opened. Dazed by his sudden awakening he looked about him a moment. Then, as the strains of the music swelled upon his ear, he sprang to his feet, shot one hand with clenched fist above his head, and in a voice that echoed from side to side of the big building, yelled:

"Dixie! By G—d!"

"There was an instant of dead silence followed by a shout of laughter and applause. Gilmore looked around, provoked and disconcerted, and for the first time that famous band blundered and the medley continued with little regard for musical accuracy. No lobster a la Newburg was ever remembered than that young man from Louisville as he sat in his chair. He wished himself a thousand miles away, but he was too game to run, and when first one and then another employe of the place gathered around him and told him he must leave, this conversation followed:

"You must get out of here."

"I won't do it."

"You've got to. You've raised a disturbance here, and you'll either get out or be put out."

"I won't go. I'm sorry I made any noise, but it will be bad for the first man that lays hands on me for cheering for Dixie."

"Come! Get out of here."

"And just then, three tables off, a big dark man arose and came toward the group. From five tables away a little man with blazing eyes was already coming. Five, ten, twenty men were bounding from this side and that. I lost count of the number, but in a moment the employees around the young man were no longer in an overwhelming majority, and in low, quiet tones, in whose coolness lay the bulldog growl, I heard:

"He'll not go out."

"Not until he's quite ready."

"Leave this gentleman alone, and leave him at once!"

"And they left him. And the crowd made Gilmore play that medley three times, and every time 'Dixie' was reached, there was a cheer that made the roof ring. And that's all there is to my story. Except that I am going to look up that young man while I'm here, because he blotted out ten years of New York and brought me mighty close to 'my old Kentucky home' that night."—Courier-Journal.

What Tariff Reform Has Done.

Labor rises in the morning under the new Democratic tariff with a reduction of taxes on the flannel shirt of 703 per cent; on the trousers, 753; his vest, 654; his coat, 738; and shoes 20; he washes his face and hands in a bucket reduced 284 per cent; soap 20, and dries himself on a towel reduced 85 per cent; he draws on his overcoat reduced 75 per cent, and puts on his hat reduced 71 10-10 per cent; his wife wears a woolen dress reduced 75 per cent; a hat, 70; wool stockings, 74; shoes, 20; puts on her woolen shawl reduced 764 per cent; to help him earn a living she uses thread reduced 211 per cent; needles, 284; scissors, 221 per cent; he lies down on his bed reduced 284 per cent; draws over him a sheet reduced 50 per cent; blanket reduced 71½ per cent, and happily contemplates reductions in carpets, dressgowns, tin plate, china, knitting, pearl buttons, gloves, pocket knives, etc., that have been made. His put some coal reduced 464 per cent, in a stove reduced 834 per cent, and eats his breakfast in a plate reduced 451 per cent; with a knife and fork reduced 53 per cent, and seasons his food with free salt, and smokes his pipe reduced 80 per cent, and reads that under tariff reform, lumber, binding twine, grain bags, cotton ties, cotton bagging, copper, salt, wool and agricultural implements are free.

A Son's Love.

Riley Grammon, the plunger, of Lexington, did a handsome thing a few days ago. Thirty years ago his parents owned a homestead at Paris. Misfortune overtook them and the homestead had to be sold. Allen Bashford, a wealthy merchant tailor, bought in the property.

The older Grammon, financially ruined, then went to work in the store of Bashford as a tailor, while little Riley swept up, made fires and did the chores.

Time rolled on and Riley took to the turf and is now wealthy. As prosperity came to him, adversity overtook Mr. Bashford. His fortune left him, and a few months ago he was stricken with paralysis and died.

The old homestead was advertised to be sold at auction on the 20th inst., and Riley surprised everybody by bidding it in at $5,100 and turning it over to the old folks, who wept tears of joy over their boy, who, in all these years, had been determined to see them home in their old home.

Industrious Joe.

Hon. Joe M. Kendall addressed the people at the Beattyville fair, and an eye witness informs us that everybody was delighted with the effort. He was here on the 15th enroute to Salersville to fill an appointment there. He says that he has tried in vain to get Bro. Hopkins to meet him on the stump, and he cannot, therefore, conduct the campaign as he would like. He says that he is not a preacher or he would cheerfully go along with Bro. Hopkins and join in the services with him, for his views do not differ on religious questions. But as the issue is not which is the best preacher, but which would make the best representative in congress, that even then he does not understand how the people would be able to judge from that test. But Mr. Kendall has no fears of being out-generated by this new method in politics. He is conscious of his superior fitness for the place by his practical knowledge of public affairs, which will enable him to render the people valuable service at the capital. There are a thousand and one things which the people of the district ask their representative to do for them at Washington which requires tact, and familiarity with the ways and means of getting them done. This Mr. Kendall has, and therefore can do for the people what a new and inexperienced man could not. These are some of the reasons why Mr. Kendall believes the people will elect him.—Jackson Hustler.

And Still They Come.

The "In and About Kentucky" man in the Courier Journal says: Candidates for state offices continue to bolt up almost daily, and the field will be fairly swarming with them months and months before the next state convention.

The latest to be announced is A. P. McCoy, of Greenup county, who desires to be register of the land office, the position now held by G. E. Swango, who desires to succeed himself. Mr. McCoy, although a young man, is one of the most influential Democrats in his section. His friends claim that he will get, without much of a struggle, his entire congressional district—the 9th, that portion of the 10th district next to the Sandy Valley, and the bulk of the vote from the 6th district. It has also been stated that "Breck" Hill, of Lee county, would make the race for the same office. He has been a clerk of his county for years, was a candidate for Congress in the 10th district before the recent convention at Campton, and is a strong man. By common consent the office has usually gone to Eastern Kentucky, and there will probably be a half dozen candidates from that section.

Brothers Convicted of Murder.
At Owensville, recently, a jury after being out twenty-four hours in the case of Will Deatley, for the murder of Mart Cline, brought in a verdict of guilty, and fixed the punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for life. A jury which had tried Lee Deatley for the same murder, after being out three days and nights, returned a verdict of six years and nine months in the penitentiary. George Deatley, brother of Lee and Will, is now arraigned for the murder of the same man, and a jury has been ordered summoned from Fleming county to try the case.

Lawson P. Deatley, father of Will, Lee and George Deatley, charged with conspiring with his three sons for the murder of Mart Cline, has been granted a change of venue to Montgomery county. A great many people believe Will Deatley insane, notwithstanding the verdict of the jury to the contrary, it having previously tried him for lunacy.

Encouraging.

Reports from Magoffin, Johnson, Martin and other Republican counties indicate that Judge Becker will get considerably more than the vote of his party. Probably it would have been better for Bosley if he had lost himself, as Bro. Hopkins has by confining himself to preaching his way through instead of speaking with Judge Becker and writing funny letters to his paper, for political sentiments he is not responsible while he is a candidate.—Winchester Democrat.

"Sergeant Crouse" is the title of a new story soon to appear. Read it.

The Reason.

Democrats, we wish to say to you this! There is nothing you can blame your party for. Hard times came upon this country partly as a natural result of thirty years of Republican legislation, which closed against you all the markets of the world. But the most correct statement is this: "Hard times came upon this country because the time had come for settling up." The people had been speculating in boom towns and in other boom business and living beyond their incomes, and had gotten into debt. There had to be a stopping place and a settlement and the time came upon a Democratic administration. Every man who reads this and has mind enough to understand the serious things of life, knows this statement cannot be successfully controverted.—Caroline Mercury.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A toothache soon may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the chest or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Preserve a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. In Russia the price of grain is so low that the poor tenant is compelled to sell about all of his crop to pay expenses, barely leaving enough for food and seed. This is the pauper labor that the United States farmers can not be protected against, yet the Republican party asks the farmers to vote to compel themselves to buy in a market pretending to protect the farmer, really protective of the manufacturer, while the farmers are of necessity compelled to compete in free trade markets with foreign pauper labor.—Owensville Outlook.

Our citizens to the number of two or three hundred gathered on the burnt district here, on last Monday afternoon at two o'clock, to witness the exhibition made by the Cincinnati Tin and Japan Fire Extinguisher Co. The test was given under the personal supervision of Mr. Herman H. Wells, president of the company, Cincinnati, and Mr. W. V. Snyder, the local agent, of Georgetown, Ohio, and was satisfactory in every respect, clearly demonstrating the Stenro's Extinguisher to be one of the best methods yet devised or invented for the controlling of fire.

A structure of pine boards was built, and after being thoroughly saturated with kerosene, a match was applied. The extinguisher was then turned on and the fire put out in about ten seconds. All who witnessed the test were thoroughly satisfied that the Stenro's will do all and more than is claimed for it. The headquarters of the company are S. E. Cor. Syracuse and Canal Sts., Cincinnati.—Winchester (Ohio) Herald.

We are credibly informed that logs are selling in the mountains at the same price they have been sold at for several years. There are but few wanted, because there have been no tides this season to carry the timber to the mills, and they have the purchase of last year still on hand. The Wilson bill is not responsible for the lack of water, and this alone has kept the mills on the Kentucky river idle this season.—Jackson Hustler.

Every vote for the Democratic candidates for county office is a vote endorsing the great party for its interest in behalf of the laboring classes—the masses—and no Democrat should fail from any cause to so vote.

Before casting a vote every man should acquaint himself with the fact that the Democratic party has so legislated that he can now buy a suit of clothes for one-half what the same suit cost under the Republican tariff laws, and then vote for the party that has helped him.

The editor of this paper has talked with several politicians from over the district, and from the best information we can gather Beckner and Kendall will be elected by handsome majorities. But every Democrat must do his whole duty to insure such a success. There must be no sulking or skulking.

The Carlisle club at Catlettsburg expelled T. D. Marcum, editor of the Democrat, and Tom has issued a card denouncing those who said he had ever belonged to the club as "liars," "scoundrels," etc. He says the so-called club is simply a clique of ringsters who are robbing the tax-payers of Catlettsburg, and they are mad because he opposed their chicanery.

The Democratic party, ever the friend of the poor man for the poor man's sake, has recently reformed the tariff to such an extent that every laboring man who has goods to buy for himself, his wife, or his little ones, must feel that it has been his benefactor, and that, too, in time of his greatest need. Apropos of this we wish to remark that the Democratic party of this county has as clean a lot of candidates up for the various offices as ever sought the suffrage of an enlightened constituency. Indeed they are the peers of any to be found in the land, and nothing but party prejudice can find a fault with any of them. Remembering what the great party has done for him, can any poor man fail to vote for these men for county office? We think not.

The man who votes against the Democratic party now, when the beauty of the new tariff law is exhibited in the lower prices he pays for clothing, shoes, etc., must be akin to the fool that killed the goose that layed the golden egg. A little patience will bring him both pleasure and profit.

The situation in the Eleventh district is just now very interesting. John D. White, David Colson and Silas Adams have the Republican vote so divided that if all their names are polled Hon. George T. Stone, the Democratic nominee, is almost sure to go to congress. Let us hope that each of them will hold on with bull-dog tenacity.

Hon. William McKinley, governor of Ohio, and author of the infamous tariff bill which bears his name, passed through Lexington Saturday, en route to New Orleans, where he will taffy the sugar barons who recently quit the Democratic party. Courtesy prompted Mayor Duncan to call upon the prince of protectionists for a few remarks, and curiosity provided a crowd to listen while the train on the Cincinnati Southern waited at the depot.

Notwithstanding the efforts of an apparently large number of sore-heads to defeat Congressman Al. Berry, in the Sixth district, the "tail sycamore of the Licking valley" got there on the first ballot and landed with both feet, to the utter discomfort of his disgruntled constituents. The convention was held at Walton, in Boone county, and resolutions were passed endorsing President Cleveland's administration and presenting Hon. John G. Carlisle as the logical candidate for president next time.

Democrat, how about your neighbor? Do you know that he is in line for the congressional candidates and the county officers? If you have not entire confidence in the way he will vote on the coming 6th of November, does not your duty suggest that you see him and ascertain his status on the situation? The Republicans are making a still hunt, and unless you are wide awake they will slip up on an occasional vote which belongs to us. See to it that they don't get in any of their work on the unwary, and all will be well with us.

The sugar planters of Louisiana last year got the munificent sum of $11,099,841 direct from the government as bounty on the sugar produced by them, and because they can not perpetuate such pilfering under Democratic laws they bolt the Democratic party. One who has figured out the per cent of increase in this bounty, estimates that for the fourteenth year $101,518,906 would be paid to Louisiana planters. The Democratic party did wisely in repealing the law, and on Tuesday, Nov. 6th, every man who has the love of country at heart should go to the polls and endorse its action. Vote the Democratic ticket "from end to end."

The Republicans will make a desperate effort to capture two or three of the county offices, and to their credit be it said, they have nominated the best men in their ranks to make the race. But Democrats should bear in mind that each and every candidate on the Democratic ticket is as good as any they have or can name, and therefore there should be no "scratching." Without Democratic votes none of the Republican candidates hope to be elected, and before a Democrat thinks of voting outside his party he should put to himself the question: "Will it be honest, right or manly to pass my own party candidate for a man who is no better qualified?" And his manhood should invariably answer: "No; ten thousand times no! I will stick her under the rooster."

The following, taken from the Stanford Interior Journal, is so pertinent to the situation in Wolfe county politics, that we reproduce it entire for the consideration of all whom it may concern: "Whenever a Democrat tells you 'I'm going to vote the secret ballot this time,' you may put him down a coward, who is going to stab some of the nominees in the back with his little cross mark. He has an imaginary grievance and can wreak his vengeance without being found out, under the new order of voting, invented for the weak and cowardly. No honorable man who participated in the primary election will vote against the nominees of that election, simply because his man got left or because he is out of sorts with the party. He is just as much in honor bound to support the ticket as if he had sworn in open court to do so, and we take it that few will be unfaithful to their obligation. The total vote of the primary election cast now for the nominated ticket will elect it by several hundred and take the wind out of the Republicans, who hope on account of supposed Democratic dissatisfaction to carry the day. Let every Democrat do his duty and give the lie to the Republican belief that they are dishonorable or treacherous."

COURTEOUS BY INTUITION.

But He Would Throw Away the Scuff All the Same.

A very little incident will sometimes show the natural trend of a person's nature. An old Scotchman visited an office where some young men were congregated, and after concluding the business which took him there, stopped for a social chat. In the midst of this he took out an old-fashioned snuff box, opened it, took a pinch of the mixture and offered the box in turn to each one present.

The surprise of one was reflected in his face as he declined the proffered luxury, says the Detroit Free Press. Another smiled broadly as he said: "Excuse me," but the third took a pinch and held it in his thumb and finger, while the old man thrust his box, showing in every line of his shrewd old face his appreciation of the snuff-taker, and soon after he took his departure.

"What will you do with it?" asked one of the group.

"Throw it away," was the reply; "but I was not going to hurt the poor fellow's feelings by refusing to take a pinch. It is like eating salt with an Arab—it makes you his friend therefore forever."

"How do you know that?" "I have intuitions," was the quiet answer.

The Horse's Memory.

A Middletown (N. Y.) paper tells of a horse belonging to Mr. Schlemmer, of that place, who began to pick up its ears and look very intently at two ladies whom the butcher did not know. As they came nearer the horse became more excited and reached forward toward them as far as the strap by which he was hitched would allow. One of the ladies said: "Oh, there's our old horse," and went up to the animal, which responded to her caresses by rubbing his head against her shoulder. The horse had been in the possession of the lady's father for fourteen years and until four years before, and had always been her pet. No one who reads this incident need doubt that horses have good memories and affections for those who treat them well.

WOMAN'S LIFE IN INDIA.

An Existence Without Wickedness, But Intolerable.

The position of the native women of Rajpootana is singularly deplorable. Peened from their babyhood within the narrow limits of the zenana, they are cut off from all contact with the outer world, with which they communicate only through their slave girls, seeing not only no men but hardly any women, very few ladies of sufficient distance of each other. They are quite uneducated, unable to either read or write or work; nothing, therefore, remains to them but their affections, and these are out-sung by their husbands, professing no love for them and visiting them but occasionally, their children being taken from them at a very early age and placed under the guardianship of men, their mothers being considered unfit, and, alas! truly, to bring them up. Is it to be wondered at that such an education, such a violation of every instinct, every need of a human being, should produce creatures singularly depraved?

For Sheriff.

We are authorized to announce SAM HENRY WILSON as a candidate for sheriff of Wolfe county, subject only to the will of the people at the polls in November, 1894.

THIS PAPER is all home print, and it you want all the good things it contains you should read every article on each of the eight pages. You will find all the local news that way.

Little Herald Pieratt was thrown from a horse last Friday and got a considerable shaking up, but fortunately received no serious injury.

Dyspepsia seldom causes death, but permits its victims to live in misery. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

This office has for sale an elegant cannon stove with drum attached, just the thing for large school-room. Trustees desiring to provide a stove for their school should call and examine this one, as it is likely to bring a bargain.

Rev. Hopkins preached at the Caskey school house on Wednesday. Quite a good sized congregation heard him, and he never said a word about going to congress. Perhaps it is just as well, for Little Joe is likely to disappoint him.

"Thrasher Cums is running like a scared deer," is the news we get from his race from all parts of the county. The fact of the matter is that not a voter in Wolfe county can find fault against him, and they are for him to a man.

John and Clay Cecil, sons of our fellow countryman and friend, E. F. Cecil, have been and are still quite sick with fever. Mrs. Taulbee and Andy Nickell are both, we believe, attending them, and hope to bring them around all right.

Don't fail to read Mrs. F. N. Day's advertisement, which appears in this issue of our paper. She has a full line of millinery and dress goods, embracing the latest in fashion and the finest in fabric, all of which she will sell at fabulously low figures.

Henry L. Godsey will address the people in the interest of the Democratic party, at the following times and places: Ezal, Saturday, Oct. 27; Frenchburg, Tuesday, Oct. 30; Walnut Grove, Thursday, Nov. 1; Hazel Green, Saturday, Nov. 3; Jackson, Monday, Nov. 5.

Remember that James H. Swango and Rollin A. Kash will address the voters at Frenchburg, Thursday night, Nov. 1; Ezal, Friday, Nov. 2; Walnut Grove, Saturday, Nov. 3; Campton, Monday, Nov. 5. Speaking at 1 o'clock. Judge Amos Davis will be with them at Ezal.

Mrs. Lou Day desires to announce to the ladies of Hazel Green and vicinity that she is just now in receipt of a complete line of fall and winter hats, trimmed and untrimmed; dress goods, ladies' cloackings; fruits, confections, etc., and will make it to the interest of buyers to purchase from her.

By request, Rev. Mr. Chisholm, of Winchester, who is conducting a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church in this place, will address the Teachers' Association, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. His subject will be "Shadows." We hope that not only our teachers, but every citizen of the town and community will hear him. Wm. H. Cord.

The records of Breathitt county show that B. N. Spradling, who is opposing Jeff M. Rose for the office of assessor of Wolfe county, is a citizen of Breathitt and not of Wolfe, as he voted in that county on November 7, 1893, and also the first Saturday in June, 1894. Had he examined the law he would not now be a candidate in this county.

The young democracy of the district is leading in the fight for Kendall and Beckner. Young Henry Goddy, of Hazel Green, who was Judge Lisle's secretary, is making eloquent speeches in Wolfe and adjoining counties, and James Swango, of the same place, who is now attending the law school at Danville, will make a half dozen speeches the week before the election, and he is an orator worth going miles to hear.—Winchester Democrat.

Dr. Chisholm, of Winchester, began a meeting in the Presbyterian church at this place on Tuesday night, which is still in progress and will continue over Sunday. The following are his subjects: Thursday—Batter-cakes, or Ephraim Exemplified; Friday—Apostolic Ambition, or the Cultivation of Conscience; Saturday—Sprinkling the Ashes of the Red Heifer, or the Gospel in the Water of Separation; Sunday—Morning service: The Power of Christ Crucified; Evening service: The Question of Life, or Pilate and Jesus. Everybody is invited.

Mrs. Caroline Taulbee, wife of Sewell Taulbee, deputy revenue collector, died at the residence of her husband in Jackson, on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. The deceased was a sister of John B. Hullon, near Daysboro and of Mrs. D. B. Rose, of this place, both of whom attended the burial, which took place on Monday afternoon on Holly, near where she was reared. She is said to have been a most lovable woman, and the husband and two children who are so suddenly bereft of her love have the sympathy of all, in which THE HERALD most sincerely joins.

Read the new advertisement of Louis and Gus Struss, which appears in this issue of our paper, and if in need of an overcoat or suit of clothes give them a call. Nearly every man of Wolfe county who is a visitor to Lexington is a buyer in large or small amounts from this house, and nothing better could be said for the firm than that every purchaser is eminently satisfied with the bargains he gets. If you have not yet tried them it will pay you to do so on your first visit to Lexington. Or you may send them the cash with a mail order for what you want, and be assured of satisfaction in all respects.

From the way things are being overhauled at the mill in West Hazel Green one is led to the conclusion that the spirit of enterprise has seized upon the present manager and part proprietor, Mr. Jonathan E. Quicksall, with a firm grasp. He is putting a foundation of solid masonry under the engine, which is being thoroughly overhauled, and other repairs being made will make this mill second to none in this section. Mr. Quicksall tells us that as soon as he gets the mill in running order he will be prepared to make as good or better flour than was ever before produced in the mountains, while his grist and saw mill will be in a condition to do custom work promptly, cheaply and satisfactorily.

Gillum Howard. Yesterday evening at 7:30 o'clock a quiet wedding took place at No. 67 West Main street, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Rev. W. S. Spaw, pastor of the Upper Street Baptist church, performed the ceremony which united in marriage Judge J. P. Gillum and Mrs. Maggie Howard. Judge Gillum is well and favorably known in this city as well as in other parts of the state. He was formerly a resident of Trimble county, of which county he was at different times county attorney, county school superintendent and county judge. His wife is a daughter of Dr. C. H. Holbrook, of Paris, Ky., and a granddaughter of Sophia Amyx, who was the daughter of Mr. William Boyd, deceased, of this city. She is an exceedingly attractive woman and Judge Gillum is to be congratulated upon his good fortune.—Lexington Transcript.

Notice to County Superintendents of Schools.

It is probably too late to hold the examination for county appointees for free scholarships to our school, so you will consider the claims of every applicant and appoint the two who present the best general average. Take into consideration the worthiness, the morality and earnestness of each applicant; also the time each desires to remain in school this year, and grant the appointment to be approved by the Faculty of our school.

I trust you will bring this matter before the young people of your counties, and that two at least will make the application and take advantage of this offer, viz: We give two free scholarships to the following counties: Menefee, Morgan, Johnson, Magoffin, Breathitt, Lee, Powell, Perry, Knott and Owsley. Wm. H. Cord, Principal.

The Democratic committee of Wolfe county are requested to meet at the court house in the town of Campton, Saturday, Oct. 27th, 1894. I hope each member will be present, as we have business of importance to attend to.

Respectfully,
H. F. PIERATT, Chairman.
PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Hon. W. J. Hendrick, Attorney General, will speak at Beattyville, Monday, Oct. 28; Campton, Tuesday, Oct. 30; Stanton, Wednesday, Oct. 31; Clay City Wednesday night.

I am trying and expect Gen. P. W. Hardin for Hazel Green about Nov. 1st. Gen. P. W. Hardin will speak at Sandy Hook Tuesday, Oct. 30; West Liberty, Wednesday, Oct. 31; Hazel Green, Thursday, Nov. 1; Frenchburg, Friday, Nov. 2, and at Mc Sterling, Saturday, Nov. 3.

J. M. BEXTON, Chairman
Democratic Campaign Committee Teeth
Congressional District.

A TRIBUTE To the Memory of Miss Rose Trimble.

BY MRS. WM. L. LISK.

Ah me! With aching heart I read to-day
That Rose, dear Rose, from earth had passed away.

So good, so true—and oh, we loved her so—
Our hearts are sore distressed to let this go.

Dear Rose, sweet Rose.

I tried to look upon her pictured face,
But all I cannot see is winning grace.

A flood of grief wells up and whelms me quite,
While hot tears hide thee from my longing sight—

O dear Rose, sweet Rose.

Poor, sorrowing mother, all my heart to thee
Goes out in tender, pitying sympathy.

How fast the waves of trouble o'er thee sweep,
What lonely vigils must thy sad soul keep.

Dear Rose, sweet Rose.

Father and brothers, sisters, friends and all,
Upon so many lives the shadows fall.

Her hands so quick to do a kindly deed;
Her feet so swift to go in time of need.

Dear Rose, sweet Rose.

The fragrant memories of her life will be
A blessed heritage to you and me.

Those dear remembrances, we hold them fast—
Not even death can rob us of the past.

Dear Rose, sweet Rose.

The pleasant words she spoke in days gone by,
The light that kindled in her lovely eye,

The warm hand-clasp, the well-remembered tone—
Oh friends! these, all of these, are still our own.

Dear Rose, sweet Rose.

We sit with heavy hearts, and heads bowed down,
She walks in snowy white with shining crown.

Oh! in our selfishness we grieve, but still
We will be glad for thee; dear Rose, we will.

Dear Rose, sweet Rose.

ACADEMY NOTES.

Hardin Hurst, a former student, of Paxton, was among the pupils on Saturday.

Menefee county is the first to make enquiry about the county scholarships. Where are the other nine?

Millard and Daniel Skidmore spent Saturday and Sunday with their sister near Mariba, Menefee county.

The principal hears from a number of young men and women each week who will enter the school in the winter.

The "Academic" acknowledges the receipt of the following, which explains itself.

MR. AND MRS. SOLOMON ROBERTSON request your presence at the marriage of their daughter,

TO RODNEY CORD
in the Christian Church, Carle, Kentucky,
Thursday, Nov. 1, 1894, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

In the Teachers' Association here on next Saturday, several of the old pupils of the Academy will take part, viz: French, Quicksall, B. F., H. C. and Miss Florence, Dellusk, Adams, Swango, Mrs. Kash, James, Taulbee, Day and Linden.

Wanted.

Nice fresh butter every week at the Academy Home, for which I will pay cash 12 cents per pound. I would like to engage some person or persons to furnish me 12 pounds a week. I will also pay cash, from 8 to 12 cents apiece, for chickens delivered at the Home. Want five dozen. Wm. H. Cord.

ELECTROPOISE.

SPECIAL OFFER.

The success of the Electropoise in curing disease of almost every form, and many patients beyond recovery, has caused a wide and growing demand for the "little doctor." Tumors, abscesses, scrofula, cancer, paralysis, chronic and acute rheumatism and neuralgia, many cases of female troubles, some cases of total and partial blindness, deafness, bright's disease, kidney and bladder ailments have been cured in such a short while as to border on the miraculous. The treatment is simple and effective. Write for terms of rental and sale and special reasons why you should get on this month; also letters from well-known people, testifying to its curative merit.

DU BOIS & WEBB,

309 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky.

THE HERALD

AN EARLY IRONCLAD.

It Was Built to Break Through the Spanish Lines.

The idea of protected ships, such as the modern ironclad, is by no means an absolutely new one. This is proved, says the Western Mail, of Cardiff, by the fact that an armed vessel was constructed, though crudely, of course, as far back as 1385 by a shipwright of Antwerp during the wars between the Spaniards and the Dutch. In the summer of 1385 Antwerp was besieged by the Spaniards from behind the water, and the people of Antwerp built the first protected ship on record in an attempt to break through the line of besiegers in the river. It was a craft of unusual size, with flat bottom, its sides armed with iron plates fastened into great beams of wood. When finished the builders thought it a floating castle, impregnable to the artillery and missiles of those days, which should crush all opposition, as it contained a great number of men, some of whom were played like sharpshooters in the tops of the masts, and the rest protected by the bulwarks.

They were so confident that the craft would rout the enemy that they called it "Finis Belli," thinking it no doubt would put an end to the war. Unfortunately, however, the early ironclad proved a disastrous failure, getting stuck upon a bank of the Scheldt after a very short and unhappy career. The Spaniards were greatly amused with the untimely end of the vessel, while the brave burghers of Antwerp changed the name from "Finis Belli" to "Perdit Expensal," or "Money Thrown Away." The vessel was captured by the ship, and the Spaniards, after defeating the Netherlands in a naval battle, carried the monster in triumph to the camp of Alexander, of Parma, where it became one of the sights of the times. The city of Antwerp was taken August 17, 1585, and so the first ironclad on record came to an unfortunate end.

CROWN PRINCES PRESENT.

Those of England, Russia and Austria Dances at the same Ball.

It is not often that the heirs to three of the world's most powerful empires are dancing at the same ball, so a quadrille d'honneur at Buckingham palace the other night was a memorable occasion, says London Express. The prince of Wales and crown prince of Russia and Austria were footing it together, and subsequently the Austrian archduke and the crown prince were noticed waiting with their hands almost touching each other. The heir of the czar is very fond of dancing, a taste which is shared to the full by his betrothed, Princess Alix of Russia. The Austrian prince is inclined to be awkward, and managed to entangle his spur with disastrous consequences to the gown of Princess Alix. The Russian young man and rather inclined to be morose. During his visit to England he avoided all the society he could and really only went to court because he could not very well stay away. At the state ball he managed to wander to a comparatively obscure corner, together with the Japanese prince, who, the two royal gentlemen doubtless consoled each other with anecdotes. Another prince to whom the Austrian princess was to be betrothed was a royal highness from Siam, whom he delighted by addressing in a few words picked up by the archduke while in Bangkok.

JAP WOMAN TOOK COREA.

Empress Jingo Conquered the Country and Won Perpetual Revenge.

It is to a woman that Japan owes her claim to Corea and to the naval supremacy of the eastern world. The first naval expedition which won Japan's "right to slake beyond the seas," as the chroniclers of the day so proudly wrote, was planned and conducted by a woman, Empress Jingo, and it was directed against Corea. Empress Jingo, according to the Japanese chronicles, was young and beautiful and as pliant and obedient to the gods as beautiful. As a reward for her fidelity Heaven inspired her with determination to conquer Corea. So Jingo, ordering a fleet to be collected, set out in 90 A. D. upon Japan's first naval expedition. The empress won a rich reward for her courage and energy, and Corea became tributary to Japan. Immediately upon her return a child was born to the empress, who, when he grew up, became a great warrior, and is now worshipped under the name of Hachiman, god of war. In later times it became the fashion to attribute the Korean victory to the influence of the unborn child. All over Japan there are temples erected in honor of both Hachiman and Jingo. In the year 1874, when the Japanese troops left for Formosa, many of them prayed for the special protection of Hachiman, god of soldiers.

The greatest length of the United States from east to west is on the parallel of 43 degrees north latitude, that is to say, from Eastport, Me., on the Atlantic coast, to a point on the Pacific exactly 294 miles due west of Salem, Ore. On the above parallel it is exactly 2,708 miles long. Its greatest width from north to south is on the 97th degree of longitude, which extends through the United States in an almost direct line from Pecos, N. D., to Point Isabel, Tex. The greatest width is 1,611 1/4 miles.

STORIES FROM THE SKY.

Historical and Traditional Stories of the Fall of Aerolites.

Every country and every age has its historical, semi-historical or traditional stories concerning immense stones falling from the sky; or, more properly, from space. Levi tells of a whole shower of aerolites which fell on the mountains near Rome in the year 634 B. C. The Arundel Marbles (marble tables giving the events of the Greco-Roman history from 1382 B. C. to 624 B. C. in chronological order) give an account of a great stone which "fell down from heaven" at Pergamum about the year 47 B. C. Pliny, who died in the year 79 A. D., says that in his time the "great air-stone" mentioned in the foregoing was still to be seen on the hillsides. "Aerolite," he quaintly adds, "it is even now of the bigness of a wagon."

Since the opening of the present century there have been several well attested instances of falls of stone from the regions of space. In the year 1803 a perfect shower of litho-missiles fell in the farming country adjacent to Aligre, France, upwards of three thousand separate stones falling upon a wedge-shaped section of country eight miles long by about four miles wide.

Aerolites, or "meteorites," as they are sometimes called, usually fall singly, sometimes in pairs, and, less frequently, in showers, as was the case at New Concord, O., in 1893, when nearly two hundred red-hot stones fell in a field in broad daylight.

Up to January 1, 1894, there had been between three hundred and three hundred and fifty recorded instances of stones falling from the unknown regions outside of our atmosphere, and in eight of these the fall was in the shape of "showers," the individual missiles numbering from ten to five thousand, and of all sizes, from that of an orange to immense blocks of strange combinations of minerals weighing hundreds of tons.

GETTING ACCLIMATED.

Jim's Unique Way of Learning to Be a Good Irishman.

Jim is a tanner for a manufacturing establishment in Detroit, and until a week or ten days ago Jim was a bachelor and happy. Then, in a moment of recklessness, he got married, the lady in the case being about ten years older than he and with a temper which was simply terrific. Jim took her to a little house he had rented and settled down to domestic bliss, but somehow it wasn't a success, says the Detroit Free Press. The other evening the policeman who is on that beat, and who has known Jim a long time, noticed him come out and sit on the front steps awhile, then go in and shortly afterward reappear for a few moments, then go in again. He watched this peculiar action for an hour, and the next time Jim appeared he went over to him.

"What's the matter?" he asked. Jim jerked his thumb over his shoulder and smiled a wan sort of a smile. The policeman didn't understand. "Got married, you know," said Jim. "Yes," replied the officer. "Only four days ago," said Jim. The officer nodded. "Well," said Jim, "my wife's got a mighty spiky temper and I'm trying to get used to her on the installment plan."

A WIZARD'S FEAST.

Queer Surprise That Chinese Perpetrate on Their Guests.

"I once attended a sort of 'Chinese banquet' and was not a little surprised at the way in which some of the delicacies were served," said Walter E. Logan, of Sacramento, at the La Cienega recently. "After we had discussed the most substantial portion of the repast and dessert was being served, oranges were placed before each guest, the shells of which had apparently not been broken, yet from within the pulp had in some mysterious manner been removed and four or five different kinds of jelly substituted in its place."

"The guests expressed a good deal of astonishment as to how such an operation had been accomplished, but their amazement was increased when a dish of eggs, the shells of which appeared to be perfectly whole, was placed upon the table. Examination showed the contents of the eggs had been removed and the shells filled with nuts and candy."

"Our host smilingly refused to tell us how such wonderful results had been accomplished, and we left the house completely mystified."

The French soldiers have the tradition of being the best marchers in Europe. The rate of marching laid down in the infantry drill, 1892—that is 120 paces of thirty inches per minute—gives a rate of 3 miles and 230 yards per hour; or, including the five minutes' halt, 3 miles and 230 yards per fifty-five minutes.

Reputation and character are two different things. Reputation is what people say you are. Character is what you are. A man comes into the world with only a body and a soul; he leaves the body when he leaves the world, and takes only his character and soul along. The soul is clothed in the character which he has acquired on earth, and if that character be good his life in the future will be a happy one. He will enjoy hereafter what he has fitted himself to enjoy.

Now is the time to take THE HERALD.

A Brahmin's daughter, Miss Mary Vary, early or late, is a Hindu sufferer.

The Brahmin has to get his daughter married before she attains puberty. This custom has crept into religion. The Hindu religion strictly forbids single life for woman or man; especially must the woman be married. Hence there are no old maids in India. Sometimes one may meet an old "cranky" bachelor, who has remained unmarried because he was too poor to marry, or because his character was not good; but even these are seldom found except in the lower classes. If a man is not married at the latest by his twenty-fifth year his reputation suffers. It is a belief that those who have a son go to heaven, when the son, after the death of his parents, performs the spiritual rites. However this may be, whether they go to heaven or not, this severe rule tends to a strict cultivation of home life.

Owing to this rule, if a Brahmin's daughter attains puberty before marriage the father is disgraced; he loses his caste and no one will marry the girl. Thus when a poor man has more than one daughter it is a misfortune for him. The Hindu father, however, has to find out a suitable husband for his daughter, so he goes to a gentleman who has a son. He first makes inquiries about the family, the property, the health and education of the boy. Then he asks the father of the boy to marry his son to his daughter. The father of the boy asks for dowry, and the amount of this is fixed according to the means of the man who asks for it and not of the man who gives it; that is to say, if the father of the boy is very rich he asks thousands of dollars. Hence the Hindu father of a girl has to spend much for the marriage of his daughter, for he always wishes to see her married into a rich family.

A PATRIOT'S PETTICOAT.

And How It Helped to Drive Off the British.

In a letter to the New York Times David S. Turner, of New Dorp, S. I., says: "During the war of 1812, when Commodore Halsey's fleet of the Stentor, the people there had no military defense except one old cannon which had been used for firing salutes. At Groton, on the bank of the Thames, opposite to New York, the British, Halsey in her own house, in the full vigor of womanhood and patriotism for her country, who, learning of the attack, immediately mounted her horse and started for that place to take part in the fray. Upon her arrival there the fight to prevent the landing of the Hardy force had already commenced, in which the old cannon was playing a conspicuous part, but soon it was found that the old gun must be given up for want of cartridges or material to make them. It was at this critical moment that Mrs. Halsey arrived, and, upon understanding the matter, gave instant notice that she could supply the needful, and then and there stripped off her flannel petticoat, which was worn worked into cartridges. The old gun was kept at work, and Commodore Halsey's force went back to the fleet to report progress.

"When Gen. Jackson was president and made his tour through New England he crossed the river at New London, made a call upon Mrs. Halsey at her Groton home and gave her a cordial handshaking and his hearty congratulations upon her courageous and patriotic action upon the occasion of the battle of Stonington."

IN NO DANGER

This Young Man's Head Would Never Get Hurt.

A barber out on New York avenue was cutting the long, curling, profuse locks of a young man, who has some pretensions to being literary and occasionally poses before his friends as a great genius, says the Washington Post. With a supercilious smile and words that could be heard all over the room the young man inquired: "Say, barber, what makes a man grow bald?"

The barber snapped his scissors once or twice and ran the comb through his beard.

"Well," he answered, slowly, "if a man has got lots of brains and is a deep thinker he generally gets bald. That, they say, leads to it every time."

Several of the customers looked at the young man's luxuriant crop and smiled rather broadly. The young man, however, did not exactly see the joke. So pretty soon, when the barber was running his comb in a circle like the curly locks, he tempted fate again.

"Say," he asked, "do you think my hair will come out and I'll get bald?"

The man of the scissors paused respectfully, and then in a tone like he was delivering a judicial decision, announced: "No; I don't think you stand in any danger of getting bald."

Short-Lived Insects.

The brevity of insect life is illustrated in the case of those insects that molest and ruin the mushroom. The latter, whose life is measured by hours, is often ruined by an insect who deposits eggs that hatch out grubs while the mushroom is still apparently in the full vigor of youth. Before the mushroom has reached the blooming age of forty-eight hours the grubs may develop into the full-blown insects.

PROFITABLE BAZARS.

England and America Have Both Made Large Bases by Them.

On May 3, 1915, a bazar was opened in the Covent Garden theater which realized £25,000, says London Tid-Bits. The Anti-Corn Law league, the whole area of the pit and stage was boarded over and transformed into a Norman Gothic hall, filled to overflowing with products of manufacturing industry. About 100,000 persons visited the bazar during the seventeen days that it lasted. The stalls were attended to by 400 ladies, the wives and daughters of leading free traders. A bazar for the same object was opened at Manchester on February 2, 1912, when the receipts amounted to £10,000; £25,000 were realized at a bazar in the Free Trade hall, Manchester, in aid of the children's hospital in that city; £21,000 were raised at a bazar in Dublin in May, 1902, in celebration of the centenary of the Masonic female orphan school. No fewer than $5,914 people passed through the turnstiles during the five days the fete was kept open. Twenty thousand pounds were raised in November, 1890, at a bazar in Edinburgh on behalf of masonic institutions. The sum of £13,716 was taken at a bazar held at Glasgow in February, 1890, in aid of a students' union at the university.

On May 17, 1904, at the close of the Metropolitan fair held in New York, John H. Gourlie, chairman of the finance committee, transferred to George T. Strong, treasurer of the United States sanitary commission, the sum of $1,000,000 as the "first installment" of the proceeds of the fair. He expected $100,000 to be added later.

ENDING A FAMILY ROW.

A Wife's Stratagem for Getting Even With Her Stubborn Husband.

The other evening, says the New York Recorder, as a muscular person was passing a house, a lady who stood at the gate called out to him: "Sir, I appeal to you for protection!"

"What's the matter?" he asked, as he stopped short.

"There's a man in the house and he wouldn't go out of doors when I ordered him to."

"He wouldn't? Oh! We'll see about that!" Thereupon the man gave the woman's foot to hold and walked into the house. He found a man at the supper table and took him by the neck and remarked: "Nice style of brute you are, eh? Come out of this or I'll break your back in your hall!"

The man fought, and it was not until a chair had been broken and the table upset that he was hauled out of doors by the legs and given a fling through the gates.

"Now, then, you brass faced old tramp, you move on or I'll finish you!"

"Tramp! Tramp!" shouted the victim as he got up. "I'm no tramp! I own this property and live in this house!"

"You do?"

"Yes, and that's my wife holding your hand!" whispered the muscular man, and he grazed from one to the other and realized that it was the wife's method of finishing a row she had been having with her husband.

And then he made a grab for his coat and disappeared into the darkness.

GYMKHANA IN LONDON.

How the English Are Amusing Themselves with an Indian Sport.

The gymkhana, a sort of gymnastic hash, in which the participants are expected to exercise their ingenuity in devising all sorts of unheard of performances, has been introduced into England from India. The sport is very popular in that part of the orient, but is little known in western countries.

The idea was launched in London the other day, and according to the papers there the lovers of sport have gone crazy over it. The most amusing event on the programme was a costume race. Seated on side saddles and attired in dresses of the gayest colors and the most startling cut five men went round the course, which included a bushy hurdle. Two ballet girls (both men) covered their ponies' quarters with voluminous skirts, a lolly Varden and baby in bed gown and sun bonnet, and raced for the fence, and Charley's Aunt brought up the rear. Another feature here was the obstacle race, in which a variety of objects likely to put ponies on were arranged round the course. The one that attracted people most was the series of paper screens through which the ponies had to force their way. The head-to-tail race and the handkerchief dash were mirth-provoking features. In the former men raced at lively speed with their faces toward the horses' tails, and in the latter a rider dropped a lady's handkerchief on the ground, then at a gallop picked it up without leaving the saddle.

The Impudent Wessel.

Impudence seems to be the leading characteristic with the wessel in his relations with man. Perhaps the creature has confidence that his long, slender body can always be snatched away into safety before the ordinary human being can do him harm. At any rate, the wessel will cooly sit in the cleft of a stone wall and watch the doings of men within a short stone's throw of his asylum, and after nightfall the beast will crawl about fearlessly within a yard or two of any human being that may approach his haunts.

Local Notes.

David Miller is on the sick list with heart trouble.

S. H. Wilson was canvassing our district last week.

W. M. Tutt passed here Saturday en route to Breathitt county.

J. W. Congleton has gone to Louisville to lay in a supply of goods, and R. L. Miller is filling his position in the store.

Married, on the 18th inst., at the residence of Taylor Brewer, Miss Charity Brewer and John Holton, G. W. Tyra officiating.

R. L. Holton and Sarah Miller, A. B. Terrill and Lou Hutton, and Green Holton and Rebecca Lawson, of Holly creek, attended the association on War creek Sunday.

Henry Cundiff, of Breathitt county, passed up Holly on Sunday evening inquiring for David Miller, and as he went back he said he found him sooner than he wanted to. Come again, Henry.

SHANGHAI.

Several candidates were here Thursday to hear Henry Godsey speak.

W. C. Ferguson and David Rose were guests of the Allen house one day last week.

Miss Nannie Rose has gone on a visit to see her grandfather, James R. Rose, of Morgan county.

Born, to the wife of A. C. Nickell, Oct. 17, a twelve-pound girl, same day, to wife of Shelby Riser, a girl.

Elsbury Taulbee, son of Lee Taulbee, was thrown from a horse Thursday, and is not expected to live but a few days.

A sister of John B. Holton died Sunday. She was the wife of Sewel Taulbee, of Breathitt county, and died at Jackson.

The following persons were in town last week: Amerson Day, of West Liberty, ex-Judge Linden of Breathitt, and James R. Rose, wife and daughter, of Morgan county.

David Maddox has returned home from the United States army. He has an honorable discharge from service, on account of disability, which will likely place him on the pension roll.

Bad Quicksand. Of Johnson Fork, departed this life Oct. 9, Angeline Allen, Oct. 16, and Edward Day Oct. 18. They were all victims of that bad fever on Johnson. Miss Linden's friends have moved him out of the infected district to his mother's, on Gillmore creek, and he has improved wonderfully.

AND.

LEE COUNTY.

Financial Follies.

Mrs. Sam Plummer is seriously ill with fever.

Corn crops are very short for lack of rain at the proper time.

John Morris is putting in a saw-mill on the road one mile from Zachariah.

Isaac Wiler has recently completed his store in Fincastle, and will fill it brim full of goods.

The farmers have been busy for the last few weeks saving their crops and sowing wheat.

Wm. H. DeBuck, who is teaching in school district No. 11, is visiting at his home in Hazel Green.

Anderson Plummer, of Tallega, has been visiting his brother Sam for the last week at this place.

Miss Laura Curry, who is teaching in school district No. 12, is visiting her home and friends in Winchester.

Miss Nannie Hoard, who is teaching on Walker's creek, made a flying visit to her home in Hazel Green last week.

Jeff Francis, who now lives on the hill, will soon occupy the residence of Mrs. Wiler. She will move across to the store building.

Your scribe attended the Beattyville fair one day, and while there witnessed the killing of Sheriff Simms. It was an affair.

The schools in this section have been undergoing many disadvantages—foddering, potato digging, chestnut gathering and whooping cough; but we are glad to say these hindering obstacles are to some extent removed.

Superintendent Thomas has been visiting the schools in this section, and we are glad that we can say for him that he is wide awake to the interests of the common schools of Lee county. He is an old teacher, and knows the necessities for better advantages in education.

Bros. John Morris and Stamper, assisted by Bro. Wilson, have been conducting a series of meetings on Walker's creek and surrounding country with unexpected results. There has been 30 new converts added to the Christian church. We cannot say too much for Bro. Morris, inasmuch as he buys the people's slaves, ties, speaks and logs. He never forgets to work earnestly for the salvation of souls.

TECUMSEH.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Grassy Grist.

J. C. Havens made a business trip to Hazel last Saturday.

James R. Rose and wife, of this place, visited relatives at Lee City last week.

Mrs. J. C. Havens and Miss Membrand Byrd have been on the sick list the past week.

Frank Havens, of Omer, passed through Monday enroute to Jackson on business.

Miss Nannie Rose, of Lee City, is visiting her grandfather, James R. Rose, this week.

Miss Lizzie Chesley, one of Morgan's fairest flowers, attended church at old Grassy Sunday.

Elder R. F. McGuire, of Omer, filled his appointment at the old Grassy church, near this place, Sunday.

Joseph Havens, of Montgomery county, accompanied by his wife and little grandson, are visiting relatives here.

Jno. Havens has just completed a handsome dwelling on his farm near this place, which adds much to the beauty of his farm. John is a hustler from 'way back, and with a few more such men and a railroad, Morgan county would be on a boom sure enough.

CINDERELLA.

"Blart" Divulgence on the Railroad. The election draweth nigh, and it is time for those of Morgan county who oppose the bridge tax to give the matter a business consideration, for it is strictly a business question, and every man in the county should be interested in the welfare of his people; and my dear reader if you are one who claims to be opposed to this tax you should have some good reasons for your objections. I notice that most all the opposers would like for the road to be built, and they admit that our county will never be much unless it is developed by railroads. Then knowing and admitting this to be true, how can you afford to oppose a measure that would save you a road? You need not say that "they will build the road whether we vote the tax or not," for you don't know. Ever since I was a small boy I have heard our people talk about railroads that would soon be built through our county, but it has been all talk and no road, and if we continue to talk and do nothing, who knows when we will get a road?

A good motto is to "always take advantage of the doubt." This would save us many times the unpleasantness of regretting our risky actions in matters of importance. There is no doubt about us getting this road if we vote the tax. Then why not do it and get the road at once?

There is no use of you arguing that the tax will "overburden our people," for the figures that appeared in THE HERALD last week show you precisely how it could be paid in nine years at the present rate of taxation.

But when the road is in operation, 26 miles of it being in the county, with all the depots, saw mills, stores and other improvements that will be along the line, all of which under the new constitution is taxable for bridge building just the same as real estate or other property, you have to admit that the rate of taxation to raise the same amount of money in the same length of time would be less instead of greater, and while there are millions of bushels of coal in our county it is not taxable till it is mined. This alone (the yearly output of these mines) would be quite an addition to our source of revenue. Our population would also greatly increase, which, of course, would lessen our poll tax.

It is claimed by some that "railroads have a demoralizing influence." Now it does seem that "a way faring n an, though a fool," would not resort to such an argument as that, for if that were correct, then the more railroads the more immorality, and the great and prosperous western states that are checked in every direction with railroads would be a real hell on earth.

It does not require much reasoning to show the absurdity of such objections, for we have a case to the point. Only a few years ago the Breathitt county was a real cesspool of crime. How is it since the railroad has been built—a complete change—the people are law-abiding, industrious and prosperous, they have one of the best schools in the mountains, churches have been built, and enterprising men, having money and push, have located among them. Thus what was once the land of blood is now the home of a thriving and happy people. Vote for the tax.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Purifies the Blood and Restores Health.

Mr. F. W. Stowell
Wilmet, S. Dak.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:—About four years ago my wife was troubled with skin rheum. Although we tried nearly everything it got worse till I had to spread over both of her hands so that she could hardly use them. Finally she commenced using Hood's Sarsaparilla and when she had taken two bottles her hands were entirely healed and she has not since been troubled. In December, 1892, my neck was covered with boils of a Scrofulous Nature.

There were sixteen of them at once and as soon as they healed others would break out. My neck finally became covered with ridges and
